

THEORETICAL UNDERSTANDINGS
for
LEARNING IN THE VIRTUAL UNIVERSITY

Hannele Niemi
Pekka Ruohotie

with

Erkki Komulainen
Raija Latva-Karjanmaa
Anne Nevgi
Petri Nokelainen
Riikka Pyysalo
Henry Tirri
Kirsi Tirri

Contents

Preface	i
Hannele Niemi and Pekka Ruohotie
1 Empowering Learners in the Virtual University	1
Hannele Niemi
2 Motivation and Self-Regulation in Learning	37
Pekka Ruohotie
3 Issues in Designing an Interactive Personalized Self-Assessment Tool	73
Petri Nokelainen and Henry Tirri
4 Using Multiple Representations to Scaffold Distributed Learning in the Virtual University	91
Riikka Pyysalo
5 Mediation in Virtual Learning Environments	119
Raija Latva-Karjanmaa
6 Modeling a Self-Rated Intelligence-Profile for the Virtual University	146
Kirsi Tirri and Erkki Komulainen
7 Modeling Students' Motivational Profile for Learning in Vocational Higher Education	177
Petri Nokelainen and Pekka Ruohotie
8 Measurement of Motivational Strategies - Creating a Tool for Students of the Virtual University	207
Anne Nevgi
9 The Development of Competence and Qualifications as the Objective of Vocational Higher Education	233
Pekka Ruohotie	