

Lauri Jetsu/Helsinki/Finland/Same idea also in Facebook.

I ran into this Buddha's riddle of
"clapping with one hand".

I saw the three alternative solutions. None of them makes sense.

I think the solution is simple.

If you have one hand and you are both alive and dead, then you can clap the same hand when you meet yourself again.